Four Directors of Aeronica Re-elected

The shareholders of Aeronica Manufacturing Corp. recently re-elected four directors and approved a stock option plan for supervisory employees. The meeting was held in the company's offices in Middletown.

According to S. J. Kuderer, vice president and secretary-treasurer of the company, the shareholders re-elected Fred D. Danford, treasurer, Armo Steel Corp., John A. Lawler, Aeronica's president, John Slezak, chairman of the Board of Cable Printing Co., and Milton S. Smith, vice president of Aeronica and former president of Buensod-Stacey, Inc. Their new terms will expire April 26, 1963.

Shareholders also approved the adoption of the stock option plan providing for issuance of restricted stock option to executives and supervisory employees of Aeronica. Individuals to receive the options will be selected by disinterested committee of the Board of Directors. Kuderer said 35,000 shares of common stock are to be reserved for the plan.

In the last 15 years CARE has sent more than $145,000,000 worth of food, sewing machines, plows, tools, and medical supplies to the needy abroad.

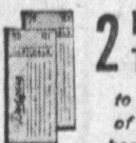

Child in Hospital
